DEWEY.

Mrs. MAY MATTHEWS.

Mumps our editor has at his home. He calls them a "swell affair." But in his office the Jasper News, is the swellest affair there. It is increased to twice its size, and still will be swelling on. While his poor old measly mumps, will have taken departure and gone.

Mr. Young of Pittsburg, Kans., is visiting his sister, Mrs. Tom Brook. Mrs. McTeynolds took suddenly sick Saturday and had Dr. Gentry out in a hurry. She is a little better now. Mrs. Davis Hill, who formerly lived in Dewey (a mile east), died at the home of her daughter in Eureka Springs.

Two good sized crowds were at the sales at Body's and Sterling's. The storm came Sunday morning and prevented any one going to Sunday School.

Saturday night a big crowd attended the literary. It was decided the railroads were not going into the hands of Uncle Sam. Capital Punishment will be settled next Saturday night and in two weeks the Prohibition question will be settled. We consider the debating society a great benefit to the young folks.

Mrs. Boyd's best horse went lame the day of her sale.

The ice was fine for skating Saturday night and quite a lot of young folks were out.

It looked like we might have had a snow ball Sunday morning, the way the wind brought the flurries, but we haven't had one yet. The kids haven't snowballed this winter.

The cold snap stopped Mr. Bull from drilling and the men from ditching for tile. But they can go on now.

Mrs. Seidners' sisters Erma and Eula spent Saturday and Sunday with her and attended the literary Saturday night.

The Agent.

I do not wish to buy your book, oh, agent at the door; I do not need a shepherd's crook, or salve to heal a sore. And if I did I hie me down the street, and buy of men who boost the town, pay taxes, and repeat. I took a ride the other day, in my new paste-board car, and saw, along the right of way, men toiling near and far. They're building up a thoroughfare in which we take much pride, and soon like streaks of lightning there our motor cars will glide. They're grading down the steeper hills, and bridging creeks and draws; and who is paying the bills? Who is the Santa Claus? The agent from some parts unknown, the smiling agent like you, was never known to cough a bone, to put such projects through. The local business men must bear such burdens on their backs; they pay for bridge and thoroughfare when they dig up their tax. And so when I am needing prunes the merchant of this grad will get my hard earned pinyunes, you bet your lid, my lad. So, to the place from which you came, oh, agent smooth, return! I do not need your quilting frame, nor patent duplex-churn.—Walt Mason.

Winter brings Colds to Children

A child rarely goes through the whole winter without a cold, and every mother should have a reliable remedy handy. Fever, sore throat, tight chest and croupy coughs are sure symptoms. A dose of Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey will loosen the phlegm, relieve the congested lungs and stop the cough. Its antiseptic pine balsams heal and soothe. For croup, whooping cough and chronic bronchial troubles try Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. At H. F. Pitts', 25c.
